Case Depalletizer (CDA-450)

Fast and flexible

A single CDA-450 machine can feed several production lines, each handling multiple products. At one installation, a single depalletizer has effectively handled more than 50 different product patterns, supplying five production lines simultaneously.

Depalletizing flexibility at up to 50 CPM

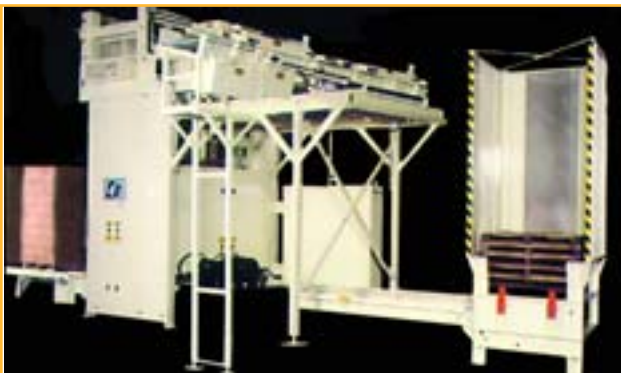

The CDA-500 is ideal for food processors, distilleries, bottlers of soft drinks, juices, and health drinks. This versatile depalletizer unloads a wide range of different packages, including corrugated cases and plastic crates. Many different product sizes can be quickly and costily efficiently unloaded at rates of 25-50 cases per minute.

Rapid changeovers

Machines can be equipped with state-of-the-art electronic controls, so that they can be programmed to handle almost any case configuration. An attendant simply dials in the product pattern and necessary adjustments are made automatically, typically requiring only a few seconds. Standard models require only a few minutes for manual changeover adjustment.

Reliable operation

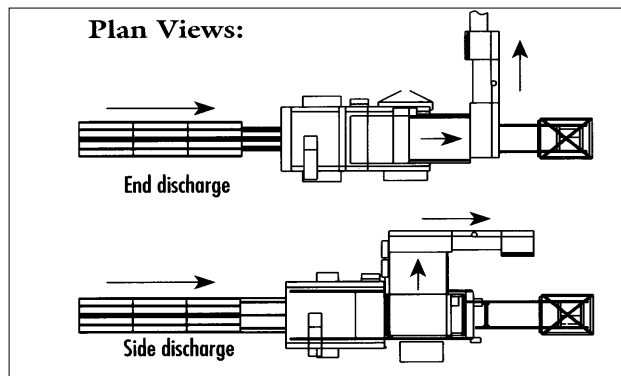

Each machine uses an articulated clamping device that compensates for any offsets in the stacking pattern. This maintains a secure hold on each tier as it is removed from the pallet without damage to the product or cases. An optional vacuum head can insure dependable unloading of cases that cannot be clamped.

Empty pallets are automatically transferred to an adjacent stacking unit.

Cases of returnable glass bottles move smoothly on roller conveyor.
